ST. THERESE
TWENTYFOUR

This saint was born at Lourdes, France. Her parents were poor, and this future saint suffered with very poor health.

On Feb. 11, 1858, she was sent with her younger sister and a friend to gather firewood. A beautiful woman appeared to her above a rose bush in a grotto called Massabielle. The woman smiled at the future saint, and then made the sign of the cross.

The future saint fell on her knees. The Blessed Mother appeared to this saint 17 other times and spoke with her, telling her to pray for sinners, do penance and have a chapel built there in her honor.

One day, the Blessed Mother told the youngster to dig in the mud. As she did, a spring of water began to flow. The next day it continued to grow larger and larger. Many miracles happened when people began to use this water. The young girl later became a nun.

She suffered greatly from various health ailments, but never wavered in her devotion. On April 16, 1879, she died at age 35.
