

Spiritual Direction

The Pastoral Ministry Formation Program provides grounding in scripture and theology, ministry skills and spiritual formation. Spiritual Direction is an important component to the Pastoral Ministry Formation Program. It nurtures one's spiritual life as one ministers to and with others. The Heartland Spiritual Staff is available by appointment.

Nothing is quite so rewarding or so at the heart of what we are made for as the spiritual quest. That is where the spiritual director comes in, companion and guide on the spiritual journey. We are inherently social beings, needing one another for survival and growth in every area of life. That is especially true in pursuing a spiritual life.

When we meet, we will look together for God's activity in all the areas of your life, especially where the action is right now. Whatever we focus on we will listen to you with care and give you honest responses. At the very least, we will offer you another seeker's perspective.
- Heartland Spiritual Staff

Renee Dreiling, OP enjoys companioning others as they seek meaning in their daily experiences and a deeper awareness of the spiritual, and believes that integration of the whole person brings peace.

Connie Burkholder, a Church of the Brethren ordained minister, invites you to be more attentive to the presence, action, and love of God in your everyday life.

Philip St. Romain, D. Min, a Catholic layman, husband, father and author, invites you to see the possibilities for a contemplative life in the midst of busyness.

Jolene Geier, OP invites you to a contemplative way of prayer that forms a non-violent heart and leads to spiritual freedom.

Marcia Bercheck offers a time to be fully present to God in the midst of ordinary concerns.
