In addition to teaching in the Studium, he had assignments at Trinity High School, Rosary College and De Paul University, all in Illinois.

Father Hughes was successively appointed Subprior at Holy Rosary, Minneapolis; superior and pastor of St. Dominic’s, Denver; and professor at Loras College, Dubuque. When the novitiate was transferred to the new Priory of St. Peter Martyr, Winona, Minn., he was appointed its first Prior.

His remaining teaching assignments were Siena Heights College, Adrian, Mich.; St. Mary of the Plains, Dodge City, where he taught religion and sociology (1952-53); and St. Dominic’s College, St. Charles, Ill.
